I would prefer to use an eGate to manual control performed by a border guard.

Share your experience, share your vision.
Shape the future.

BODEGA is a European funded project focusing on the changes to traveller processes and border controller work due to the introduction of smarter border control systems like automated gates and self-service systems based on biometrics. The traveller is one important actor in the entire process and so the traveller's role needs to be carefully considered in the development and implementation of future technologies.

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 653676
